Roses

mediate delivery of No. 1 dormant 2 year field plants; in Multiflora, except where marked (O) own root

The foremost argument for setting Roses, instead of next Spring, is that the stock fresh from the fields, with its full supply of vigor and vitality. Regardless of how carefully they may be stored the bushes will never be in better condition than they are right now. They're at their prime.

Roses planted now become completely established over Winter, and next Spring they will be well started before it is possible to begin work out of doors.

Fall is not such a busy season. You and your patrons can devote more time to doing a better job of selection and planting.

Dwell a long while on this thought, too—you will make more money this Fall if you plant Roses now!

Won highest award for Climbing Roses

When the jury met at the international testing-gardens of Bagatelle, Paris, June 11, 1927, their stern countenances changed quickly as they beheld Seedling 703 from Spain's foremost hybridizer. At once they suspended the rules by which only a Certificate of Merit can be awarded to a climber and granted it the supreme honor of Rosedom—"The Gold Medal of Bagatelle." And Mme. Gregoire Staechelin, wife of the French Ambassador to Switzerland agreed to have it bear her name.

You will have calls for this miracle Rose

If your customers haven't already asked you for this modern beauty they will demand it next Spring, for it is attracting attention among Rose lovers everywhere. Being a true climber, Mme. Gregoire Staechelin can be used for wire fences, pergolas and tall pylons. As a pillar, it can be twined around a stout post. On the side of a house it will soon reach over the roof. It has proved itself the most useful and effective perfectly hardy climbing Rose.

No. 1 dormant, 2-year field plants on Multiflora. Immediate or Spring delivery.

Keep your trade thinking about you

A careful advisor says pointedly: "One dependable way to keep your trade thinking of you as a wide-awake source of supply is to offer the cream of the new things—varieties that will put you ahead and make you money." The question before you is "Shall I allow my trade to drift away or am I going to have Staechelin when they call for it?" There's only one answer if you are in business to make money.

Follow the example of trade leaders

At this moment, orders are being filled for a long list of leaders in the trade and surely men of their judgment do not go in for a new thing unless they feel that it is going to pay them well. You can order for immediate or Spring delivery, but the field is open and late comers may be disappointed. Clinch your supply now. You will be right glad you did!
